

Tenant open credits - what are they?

Tenant Open Credits usually occur from tenant receipts for overpayments or prepayments. They are tenant monies you are holding in your bank account. These monies have not been applied to any charge code. Released deposits also create open credits.